

Discover the Past for the Future -- Some Archival and Research-type Resources Now Available Online (28/02/2012)

Dear All,

In order to cater to the needs of our users for their research work, the Library has acquired quite a number of valuable archival and research-type materials from all over the world during the past few years. To make these materials more easily accessible, we have integrated all of them on the library homepage with the collective title: "Historical Reproduction". This is basically a collection consisting of rare documents and newspapers dating back to 15th Century. Many of these resources are important to Macau and many social science aspects studies. Examples are Chinese Repository, Chinese Recorder, China: Trade, Politics & Culture 1793-1980, Foreign Office Files for China 1949-1980, 新青年, 萬象.

Please take a look at this feature via https://library.umac.mo/html/E_RESOURCES/historical_reproduction/index.html. We will continuously add new resources to this collection as we go along. Should you have any suggestions, please do not hesitate to let us know by sending email to lib_acq@umac.mo.

Regards,
UM Library