

Welcome to the Information Literacy@UM Library Program (28/10/2010)

Dear All,

As we all know, information literacy is of paramount importance in this information age. The Library is, therefore, planning to launch another program of Information Literacy@UM Library in this semester after a very successful program run last semester. The program is designed to help UM Library users in getting information for their learning, teaching and research, and solving their problems in using library resources and services.

This training program will be held from November to December 2010 and the courses are divided into three categories:

- (1) Foundations: Equipping with necessary skills
- (2) Resources: Exploring the Library resources
- (3) Advanced Skills: Getting familiar with online tools and services
