

"Reading Activity 2016": Sharing your Likes (2016/11/07)

The Library has selected a list of good books for students to read. After reading these books, students may share their thoughts with each other on the Library's sharing platform, and will have a chance to win book coupons.

How to participate:

Participants choose to read one of the books from the designated booklist, share their thoughts on the "Reading Activity 2016" sharing page. Each participant can write one comment/report for each book after login.

If your comment appears on the sharing page, this means it has been published successfully. All comments/reports must consist of 50 to 150 words and can be written in either Chinese or English. Participants will be entitled with one lucky draw entry for each comment/report published.

Lucky draw will be held right after the activity ended. 3 winners will be drawn out, and the result will be posted on the Reading Activity website and e-bulletin on or before 10 March 2017.

Prize: MOP300 book coupons

Date: From now until 28 February 2017
