Library News -- The Launch of Scholar's Pages of the UM Library (2018/11/19)

University of Macau Library and CASWIZ of Chinese Academy of Science cooperated to build a Knowledge Management System; the first batch of scholar's pages had been launched.

To be in line with the development of Smart Campus and promote knowledge exchange, the University of Macau Library had cooperated with Lanzhou Information Center, Chinese Academy of Science (CASWIZ) to develop the "Knowledge Management System of the University of Macau", and the first batch of scholar's pages had been launched on November 1, 2018. The "Scholar Page" aims to reveal the university's scientific research and its influence dynamically and comprehensively. Through cluster analysis of scientific research results and cooperation network, the scholar's academic achievement can be statistically visualized. The University of Macau Library will work with faculties and other research institutions to develop and expand the academic pages of various disciplines. The construction of UM scholar's pages is expected to be completed by the end of 2019.
